

LatinFinance returned to Beijing on October 12, 2016 for the 7th edition of the Latin America China Investors Forum. The forum explored the evolving nature of the commercial dynamic between the two regions, through a series of high-level panel discussions between Latin American companies and governments, financiers and advisors and their Chinese counterparts and a range of state and private investors. The forum also examined the intricacies of deal making between the two regions while picking apart the opportunities and challenges facing bilateral investment in a dynamic global environment.
